Board ponders appealing approval of housing units along right of way in Bethel Station project

Fear taxpayers will be stuck with the cost of building a road

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel selectmen are considering whether they will appeal the town Planning Board's approval of a low-to-moderate-income housing project in Bethel Station.

The Planning Board approved the project, on a 4-2 vote, last Wednesday. Voting in favor were David Brown, Jack Cross, Dennis Doyon and Stan Howe. Voting against were Suzy Harrington and Jan Baker.

The project is sponsored by Community Concepts, a social services agency operating in the western Maine area. Plans call for building two six-unit apartment units on a 137-by-419-foot parcel next to Western Maine Supply, at the intersection of Cross and Mechanic streets.

But Mechanic Street — as it is currently configured — ends at Cross Street, and that's the problem for Town Manager Scott Cole, who fears that if development goes ahead along a road that is still mainly a right of way on paper, the burden for building a real road will ultimately fall on the shoulders of town taxpayers.

And that, he told the selectmen Monday, is completely inconsistent with the idea for Bethel Station as it was approved by the town in 1997.

Changes proposed in gravel-pit and rock-crusher rules

By REBECCA ZICARELLI

The Bethel Planning Board has requested an inventory of gravel pits and rock-crushing operations that may be required to go through site plan review. They have also formed a sub committee to draft an amendment to the ordinance that would exempt small pits.

More than 40 people turned out for the public hearing on gravel pits at Telstar High School last Wednesday. Many were Intervale Road residents, concerned about the recent operation started by Ron and Rick Savage.

The Savages, in accordance with the town's historic practice, did not file a site plan application for a small gravel pit and two rock crushers they began operating in August.

The Intervale Road residents appear to be the first to question the applicability of the ordinance to gravel operations. Their concern triggered a public hearing to determine the intent of the community and a review of the ordinance by Geoff Hole, the town's attorney.

According to Hole, the ordinance does indeed apply to gravel extraction and rock crushing. In a Sept. 21 letter to Scott Cole, he said, "If that is not desired, the ordinance needs to be amended."

SAD44 looks at extending water lines to Telstar

By ALISON ALOISIO

SAD44 and the town of Bethel are seeking grant funds for a possible water/sewer line extension to the Telstar complex. The total combined cost is estimated at a little under $1 million.

The SAD44 Board of Directors last week authorized Supt. Kent Rosberg to seek the grants. The district, prompted by water shortages at Telstar last spring, is researching the possibility of extending the lines. They currently end in the vicinity of Davis Park.

School district and town officials have met once for very preliminary discussions, and decided the project is feasible from a capacity standpoint. The question now is one of financing. Rough estimates for the work, said Rosberg, are $430,000 for water and $500,000 for sewer.

SAD44 will pursue a water project grant through the state Department of Education, Rosberg said. A revolving renovation fund is available for such projects. The district received money from the same fund for an asbestos abatement project at Telstar. If approved, the grant would pay 40 percent of the cost, with SAD44 picking up 60 percent at 0 percent interest, according to Rosberg.

As for a sewer extension, Bethel would have to make application for a Community Development Block

Powder Ridge vacation home burns

Still-standing chimneys frame the smoldering remains of a two-unit Powder Ridge vacation home in Newry. The building was destroyed by fire late Sunday afternoon. The fire is believed to

Fire guts Powder Ridge duplex

By ALISON ALOISIO

A $410,000 duplex in Newry's Powder Ridge development was destroyed by fire Sunday.

Preliminary indications are the blaze was accidental, and may have been caused by wood stove ashes, according to Randy Harrington, assistant fire chief. No one was injured, he said.

The fire was called in about 5:14 p.m., and the building was fully involved when firefighters arrived. Harrington said it was uncertain whether neighbors or the people staying in the house reported it.

The fire started in the unit owned by Arthur Murphy of Massachusetts, Harrington said. Friends of the owner had been staying there, and were away during the day. The other unit

Sun shines on Gould reunion

After clouds and showers passed through Friday morning, perfect autumn weather prevailed for Gould Academy's Alumni/ae Weekend 2001 celebration.

The events kicked off Friday evening with the opening of the Alumni/ae Board's annual silent auction and a reception and banquet in Ordway Hall.

The Class of 1951 was awarded 50th reunion certificates, then enjoyed a special dinner upstairs in the Ordway Living Room.

Friday evening also marked the Owen Art Gallery opening of an exhibit entitled The Art and Craft of Clay, which includes works by Gould alumnus and pottery teacher Woody Hughes '75, as well as examples of works in clay by numerous other prominent artists.

Saturday's festivities began with registration, the continuation of the silent auction, and the popular Lumberman's Breakfast in Ordway Hall. Regular classes were held for Gould students on Saturday morning. Many alumni/ae took advantage of the invitation to sit in on a class or two, observing subjects that ranged from math, science, and languages to debate and music technology.

Alberta Merrill '51 was presented with the Alumna of the Year Award, recognizing her many years of service to the school as an alumna, former employee, and class agent.

At 10:30, Bingham Auditorium filled as alumni/ae gathered for a convocation address by Head of School Dan Kunkle, who shared his hopes for future Gould graduates and his thoughts on how Gould prepares them to take their place in the larger world.

"We need our students to do these four things: to embrace diversity and become expert at resolving conflict, to understand science and technology and revere the environment and the quality of human life, to learn how to employ affluence in the service of reducing human privation, and to be citizens of the world, as much as they are of one particular town, state, or nation...."

"I believe that our students have come to just the right place to learn to do these things now, a place that is right now very rich in the content of its curriculum, a place that en-

BLOOD DRIVE PROBLEM

To the Editor:

The response to our initial plea to the community was truly marvelous and we sincerely thank those generous folks who made time in their hectic schedules to sign up, and then commit to a time slot this Saturday. The Red Cross, hearing about that response devoted great effort to re-assigning sorely pressed resources to accommodate us. Our efforts to do the local coordination work for Red Cross further enabled that effort, and though taxing, it's been a rewarding experience — largely. In addition, local business has extended very impressive support indeed, especially regarding food and refreshment. The Crescent Park School facility is and will be further provisioned to provide accommodations far above the usual fare. All this generosity and preparation is to help us make strong personal statements of support for our nation. It is intended to make this occasion an enjoyable, rewarding, shared experience as well.

We're at the point now of slotting folks through Saturday in order to minimize inconvenience and waiting time. After making well over 200 calls this week, we are flummoxed by a dropout rate of over 50 percent. Given that "stuff happens" and all, that's still a stunning result. We must now make an urgent plea to the community to help build up the roster in order to fill the capacity Red Cross is providing. Please consider that: 1.) Red Cross states that the need has not diminished. 2.) If another disaster of whatever kind occurs, we're not sufficiently stocked. 3.) Developments in the global arena require adequate "on-hand" supplies, not later when blood drives can furnish it.

Again, the drive is Saturday at CPS from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Please call us at 836-2576 to schedule your support for the cause and join in a neighborly social occasion, too. You'll be glad you did.

HARVEST FEST THANKS

To the Editor:

Many businesses in the Bethel area showed their true "Harvest Fest Spirit" and built scarecrows either at their business location or at one of the Welcome to Bethel gateway signs. The chamber would like to recognize and thank these businesses for their efforts.

Littlefield Beaches Campground and Sparrow Hawk Mountain Ranch decorated two of the gateways with beautiful displays. The Bethel Inn and Country Club, Mahosuc Realty, The Inn at Rostay, Stony Brook Campground, Apple Tree Realty and the Java House created an amazing variety of scarecrow displays. Stone Mountain Mortgage, Swan Screen Printing, Maine Line Products, Gideon Hastings House and the Philbrook Place built imaginative single scarecrow displays. We encourage the public to visit these businesses and appreciate the work and thought that went into this festive effort.

The "down side" to this project is that a few, non-community minded individuals disturbed some of these displays in the dark of the night. We hope that whoever has done this, if they read this letter, will repair the damage they have done or return the original items to these displays so that we can all enjoy them in the weeks to come.

I would like to thank all the above named businesses for bringing smiles to our faces.

THANKS FOR LETTING THE KIDS PLAY

To the Editor:

I'd like to offer appreciation and gratitude to the members of the SAD44 School Board, and especially to the members of the Policy Committee, for the time and effort they have put into policy making for our district. I am specifically referring to the Extracurricular Participation Policy regarding children from the unorganized territories who are home-schooled or in private school. The careful discussion and recommendations regarding this issue represented a vote for community rather than exclusion.

This is an excellent lesson in civics for our children; thank you, board members, for being role models for sustainable decision making in our community.

DANCING FOR PEACE, STRENGTH

To the Editor:

Heartfelt thanks to the players in the Championship Mini-golf Tournament whose entry fee goes to support the American Arthritis Foundation. Thank you to the businesses that donated prizes: The Bethel Citizen, Books N' Things, Designs, Gideon Hastings House, Good Food Store, Maine Line Products and Viewer's Choice Video. A special thanks to Todd, Heather and Adam from the BIG Adventure Center.

Upcoming fundraising programs for the American Arthritis Foundation include two evenings of lecture and movement. These evenings are especially designed to help people who are experiencing difficulty with stress, tension and fear following Sept. 11.

Wednesday, Oct. 10, will be "Dancing for Peace and Strength Inside." The evening will begin with the anatomy and physiology of ways in which stress and tension lodge in our body. Through movement, we will learn how to unlock the hold. Wednesday, Oct. 17, will be "Dancing in Diversity." This is an exploration of how our body reacts to ideas, rhythms and ways that are "different" than what we are used to.

This lecture-movement work has the reputation of being fun, educational, insightful and sweaty. Donations will go to the Arthritis Foundation. Fundraising is challenging, especially in times when our country's relief fund is in such great need. By bringing relief to our own bodies, we on one level contribute to our country's relief fund.

Both evenings will be held in beautiful Odeon Hall from 5:15 to 6:30 p.m. Dress comfortably. Contact me for further information at 824-3889.

REMEMBERING 'RED'

To the Editor:

"Beep, Beep." That was a greeting that became a very familiar sound at the All Season's Café in Andover. "Red's here!" With the coffee still brewing and grills still heating, you could count on Red to be the first customer of the day. Most days he would try to sneak in without a sound and surprise the cook and waitress, who were busy in the kitchen getting ready for the day ahead. Some days he would succeed, putting one hand through the kitchen door with a "Beep, Beep," sending the unsuspecting duo to jump out of their skin. Other days, however, the cook and waitress would be waiting for him to drive up out front and sneak out the back door, surprising him by coming through the front door.

We became a family of sorts. If Red wasn't at the Café by 6:15 a.m., something must be wrong. A phone call would be made for sure.

I met Red, who knows when? I do know that he has a very special place in my heart.

When the Café closed, "the girls" and Red would still get together for breakfast or lunch. As time passed, however, the breakfast and lunches got "lost in the shuffle." Everyone moved on to other jobs, etc. I do miss that. There is no way to get back the time we have lost.

Thanks to Red, I have a place to hang all of my jewelry. He handmade a special rack for me, equipped with many spaces he knew I could use.

A story many have heard and still chuckle about. I have two boys, Cody and Garrett, now 10 and 11 years old. Seven or eight years ago, while visiting with Jim and Red at their house in Andover, the boys were swinging on a swing, hanging from a beam in the cathedral ceiling that Jim had put up in the middle of the living room. The boys loved this. Cody had climbed into the swing and was anxious to get started. Well, about this time Red had a story he had to tell, not realizing he was in the path of the swing. Not wanting to just slam into Red, he wanted to give Red some warning that he was ready to swing. Well, all of the adults were listening to Red's story, not realizing Cody was ready to swing. In a small voice we could hear, "Blue, move, Blue move!" (Cody was just learning his colors, so it took us a minute to realize what he wanted.) Rumor has it Red was called "Blue" for a few days afterward.

Anyway, I guess I had to put into words that "We love you, Red. I was thankful to have you in my life."

To all of Red's family and friends, take care. You're in our thoughts and prayers.

Appeal?

mid-1990s. That plan called for the developers to pay for the eventual extension of Mechanic Street.

"The town approved an overall scheme for street design, sewer and water projects," he said. "The Planning Board is in effect ignoring previous approvals and OK'ing a townhouse complex that fronts on an unapproved right of way, and there's no provision being made to have a build-out of that street, even an escrowing of funds to have build-out in the future."

Cole characterized the Planning Board's action as: "A major contradiction of previous approvals. A lot of public money has gone into that project down there in the form of grants, and those grants were based on an overall concept for build-out," he said.

Ideally, he said, the Planning Board in the mid-90s should have made firm provisions in its approval to ensure that the developer (or future developers) would pay for the build-out of the road.

But that did not happen, he said, and neither Community Concepts nor Bethel Station Limited Partnership, which is selling the land for the project is eager to step forward with the money.

"The town has an obligation to protect its essential interests," he argued, "and I think this is an essential interest."

The majority of the selectmen present Monday shared Cole's concern for taxpayer dollars — if not necessarily for pursuing an appeal.

Chairman Dutch Dresser, selectmen Don Bennett and Bob Everett all expressed a reluctance to have taxpayers foot the bill — or at least all the bill — for building the road.

Dresser said he did not think it would be fair either to compel Community Concepts to pay for the full cost of extending the road, "but it would seem to me that this developer and the one that follows someday on the eastern side of the road ought to be responsible for that road or for a large chunk of it, or the taxpayers will be responsible for it, because it's ultimately going to be there." (The parcel on the eastern side of the Mechanic Street right of way is larger and more commercially attractive, in part because it also has nearly 500 feet of frontage on Main Street.)

Bennett said that when the Bethel Station project was approved, "It was not going to fall to the town to build this street." But now he feared that unless another source of funding were found, taxpayers of Bethel would end up paying the bill.

And Everett said he thought some help from the developers was appropriate. "We don't want to burden the taxpayers unduly," he said.

But Selectman Reggie Brown was heatedly opposed to the idea of appealing the Planning Board's approval.

Brown said it was completely inappropriate for the selectmen to be questioning the Planning Board's decision.

"The Planning Board worked for hours on this," he said. "We spent a few minutes Monday-morning quarterbacking it. To show this to the Appeals Board with the signature of the Bethel selectmen would be disastrous, just plain out of line."

He said he also thought Cole had better things to do than pushing for an appeal: "It really bothers the hell out of me that a town manager that's got as much to do as this one's got to do is wasting so much time trying to poke holes into this project."

He said he also doubted the town would ever be in a position where it had to extend the road. The other selectmen agreed such a project would be a very hard sell to town voters, but they also seemed to agree someone would eventually be forced to pay for completing the road.

On the matter of pressing ahead with an appeal, Dresser said he was reluctant "to set the Planning Board and the selectmen at odds with each other," and he questioned whether Cole's concerns were indeed sufficiently solid legal ground on which to base an appeal.

But the town manager said he was confident there were more than enough procedural lapses in the Planning Board record to support an appeal.

But Brown still resisted the idea. "If we were to appeal this and win, it would just be another nail in the coffin of Bethel Station. And the Board of Selectmen, as a lot of people know, has put quite a few nails into the coffin of Bethel Station."

The board ultimately agreed to table the question for two weeks, during which they could ponder the matter further and get more input from the community.

"I think this is worth a couple of weeks of conversation in the Big Apple, Bottle and Bag and other places where it will be discussed," Dresser said.

Gravel pits

The intent of the community

The tone of comments at the hearing indicate that the community's intent is to leave small operations unregulated, but to review heavy industrial operations where crushers were frequently used.

Lincoln Fiske, who lives across the road from the Savage operation, said he had asked Planning Board Chairman Frank Vogt if anyone had ever complained about a gravel pit before.

"The answer was no," Fiske said. "There's a gravel pit on my land, the Olson's next to us (now Swallow Song Farm) had a gravel pit which they used. There's nothing wrong with some of the small gravel pits. That no one has complained about these existing areas, prior to the Savages' operation, speaks well to their location and use."

Most of the comments at the hearing were directed toward the Savages' pit and crusher. Town Manager Scott Cole tried to refocus the discussion on pits in general.

"I apologize to the people on the Intervale Road that we have not immediately begun to work on the enforcement angle. But we need to respect 14 years of interpretation before we move on that."

"We're here now asking for a sense of, 'Does the Planning Board want to see the ordinance amended?'"

"If the answer is no, then we will begin inventorying operations, including the Savage operation, and we will bring proprietors in for site plan review."

"If you're answer is yes," Cole continued, "then the question is what type of amendments would you like to see?"

Concerns for other pits

At least one resident attended the hearing out of concern for another operation. Betty Gilbert of the North Road has been living with the dust from a gravel pit and construction at the airport.

"We're prisoners in our own home," she said.

Bob Chadbourne, owner of Chadbourne Tree farms, encouraged the Planning Board to amend the ordinance. "I would hope we would move ahead in a way that recognizes what the original intent was."

"The intent, from anyone I've talked to who was involved (with writing the original ordinance) was not to include gravel pits," Chadbourne said. He pointed out that pits over five acres are regulated by the state.

He also was concerned about over-regulating portable screens and crushers. "My feeling is that permanent crushing is more applicable to the Site Plan Review."

Due process

For the Intervale Road residents, there is a frustration that the town is unwilling to enforce the ordinance.

Lincoln Fiske suggested that the Savage operation, because it is heavy industry, should not wait for an inventory and amendment before being reviewed.

Sue Lincoln, of the Intervale Road, summed up their frustration best. "The issue here is about due process."

Following the public hearing, the Planning Board held their regular meeting. At the end, they discussed the comments made at the hearing, and decided that the ordinance should be amended.

David Brown, Dennis Doyon and Jack Cross were appointed to a subcommittee to draft an amendment.

A public hearing on the amendment will be held in November. If approved by the Board of Selectmen, it will appear on the warrant at a special Town Meeting in early December.

Other business

The Planning Board approved three applications, each with conditions.

Community Concept's plan to build 12 units of low-to-moderate-income housing in Bethel Station was approved with two conditions: that the Bethel Station developers submit a sub-division application to adjust the lot lines, and that if the development ever uses the unbuilt portion of Mechanic Street, they contribute to the cost of building the street. (See related story.)

An application for Angevine Park, the town's proposed swimming hole, was approved with 10 conditions. Most of the conditions were included in the application submitted to the Planning Board. New conditions included permit approval by DEP, no on-road parking, lighting pointed away from the road, and a peaked roof on the restroom facility.

The Mallard Mart proposed for the site of the former Maine Market, on the corner of Route 2 and the Parkway, was approved with two curb cuts and lighting limitations.

Vote set on taking over dam

GREENWOOD—A special Town Meeting is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 13, at 10 a.m. to decide whether Greenwood will take over the Alder River Dam, on the site of the former Gilbert Manufacturing Co. Other items to be voted upon: to see if the town will authorize selectmen to borrow $140,000 and transfer it to the Fire Department Reserve Account; and to see if the town will appropriate the sum not to exceed $185,000 from the same account to purchase and equip a fire truck. The town has $50,000 already set aside for the purchase.

Woodstock fire investigated

WOODSTOCK—The State Fire Marshal's office is investigating the possibility of a link between a suspicious fire at a vacant farmhouse on Route 232 and five other suspicious fires at vacant houses in the Norway area. The two-story farmhouse in Woodstock, owned by Ann Troy, was destroyed in a blaze at about 10 p.m. last Thursday. Fire departments from Woodstock, Greenwood and Bethel responded.

Sports policy delay recommended

BETHEL—Directors on the SAD44 Policy Committee voted Monday to recommend the implementation of a recently revised policy regarding sports participation by private school students be delayed until the end of this school year. The board had voted Sept. 10 to bar private middle school students who are not district residents from competing on Telstar Middle School teams. Some directors were concerned the private-school students could displace district students on the squads. But after several parents of private school students objected to the policy, it was sent back to the committee for further review. The committee will also recommend to the full board that an Ad Hoc Committee be established to study "the issues raised" by the sports policy change. If the new committee is formed, it would report back with recommendations by March 1. The Board is expected to vote on the proposals Oct. 22.

School movie-policy update

BETHEL—The SAD44 School Board will vote later this month whether to approve the showing of R, PG-13 and PG movies in some Telstar classes. In this case, said Supt. Kent Rosberg, it is a matter of policy catching up with practice. Such movies, or excerpts from them, are now shown in classes with the permission or notification of parents. But the current policy, written in 1990, only allows G movies. The Policy Committee voted Monday to recommend allowing such videos to be used, provided "they are content-oriented and the teacher has fully previewed the material." The proposed policy spells out specific ages and procedures under which the movies from the three categories may be shown. In addition to the blanket criteria that all movies be content-oriented and previewed by the teachers, the rules are as follows: for PG, students must be in sixth grade or higher; for PG-13, students must be in high school, and a letter must be sent home informing parents the movie may be watched in class; for R, students must be in high school and the teacher must send home a permission slip to be signed by a parent or guardian. The proposal also provides for showing some clips from R-rated movies without parent notification, because, said Rosberg, the clips themselves may be "benign."

Town Office closed

NEWRY—The Newry Town Office will be closed Monday, Oct. 8 for the holiday; Thursday, Oct. 11 because the staff will attend the Maine Municipal Association annual convention; and Oct. 25 for staff training in motor vehicle registration.

Care and share for seniors

WOODSTOCK—Seniors from the Bethel area are invited to a Caring "N Sharing Day Oct. 13 at the Franklin Grange on Route 26 in Bryant Pond, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Oxford County Sheriff's Office TRIAD Program (senior citizen crime prevention). A coffee hour and musical entertainment will begin the day. Information booths and checks for blood pressure and hearing aids will be offered. Other activities will include a Fraud Bingo game, door prizes, a 50/50 drawing (proceeds to the Grange) and a crime prevention speaker. A chair lift is available.

Andover, England, comes to Andover

ANDOVER—The mayor of Andover, Hampshire, England will visit the Andover Historical Society Oct. 14. The Honorable Jack Taylor and his wife will attend a reception in their honor at the Town Hall from 2 to 4 p.m. The public is invited. Andover, Mass. is the English town's sister city, and Massachusetts hostess Judy Goonyp will accompany the Taylors. Jack Taylor visited here last year as a private citizen, and has since become mayor of his town. In conjunction with the visit, the Andover Historical Society Building will hold an open house. Several items will be on sale, and the silent auction bids of the "gazebo puzzle" will be opened and awarded.

ASC closes on Sugarbush

NEWRY—The American Skiing Company announced this week it has closed on its previously announced sale of the Sugarbush Resort in Warren, Vt. The resort has been sold to Summit Ventures, NE, Inc., a company formed by a group of local Vermont investors. ASC will use the proceeds of the sale to reduce its debt, according to company officials. Terms of the transaction remain confidential.

Annual benefit dinner scheduled

NEWRY—The first annual Brad Cunningham Benefit Dinner will take place Saturday, Oct. 13 at the Grand Summit Resort Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort. The event is sponsored by the Bethel and Newry fire departments and the resort. Funds raised will benefit the families of fallen New York City firefighters. The evening's schedule includes: 5 p.m., reception; 5:30 p.m., official welcome; 5:30-6:30 p.m., pasta buffet; 6:30 p.m., remarks by the fire departments and Sunday River. The annual dinner was renamed this year to honor Brad Cunningham, remembered as a dedicated Gould Academy student and ski patroller. He died in a skiing accident last season. The fire departments had been selected as this year's benefit recipients, but they elected to donate all benefits to the Firefighters 911 Disaster Relief Fund. Sunday River will donate the food and the firefighters will be the servers. (Donations: adults, $10; seniors, $7; children 12 and under, $5.) For more information, call (800) 543-2SKI.

"In the News" Series at Gould

BETHEL—Gould Academy and the Bethel community will welcome Dr. Charles E. Hutchinson, dean of the Thayer School of Engineering at Dartmouth College, on Oct. 11, as the inaugural speaker of this year's "In the News" series. Presented in Bingham Auditorium and open to the public at no charge, Dr. Hutchinson's "Trends in Emerging Technologies" will provide a look into information appliances, nanotechnology, and biotechnology. In providing the basis for understanding the breadth of technological development, the stage will be set for reflections and further discussions as future speakers in the series investigate the ethical issues of emerging technologies.

OctoberFest comes back

BETHEL—The Octoberfest, celebrated in the past in this area, is being revived. Christ Episcopal Church of Norway and the Bethel House Church are inviting the public to the Intervale Meeting House Oct. 7 at 4:30 p.m. At 5 p.m. Evensong, a vespers service of prayers, songs and psalms will take place. For more information, call Gwyneth Bohr at 824-2913.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Plates weren't his

At 10:30 p.m. on Sept. 29 police stopped a subject on the Songo Pond Road for erratic operation. It was found he had purchased the vehicle earlier in the month and had not removed the prior owner's registration plates, and registered the vehicle. Chris Bisson, 26, of Bethel was given a summons for the offenses.

Friday, Sept. 28

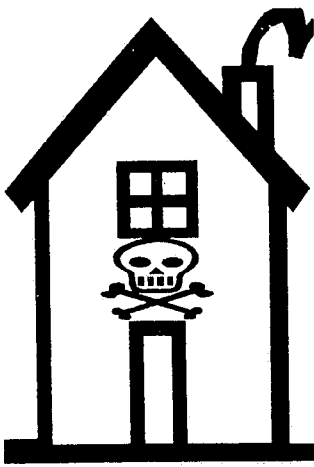

At 11:30 p.m. police stopped a subject on Route 2 for a vehicle defect. A license check showed his right to operate in his home state had been suspended. Roland Bryan Otte, 25, of Muncie, Ind., was arrested for operating without a license.

Saturday, Sept. 29

At 12:55 a.m. police received a complaint of a vehicle northbound on Route 26 operating erratically and without any visible plates. The vehicle had an expired temporary plate. Kenneth Ian D. MacLeod, 21, of Augusta was given a summons for operating an unregistered motor vehicle.

The Telstar complex currently relies on three old wells that, combined, generate about eight gallons a minute.

Grant on behalf of SAD44, Rosberg said. Town Manager Scott Cole will be working on it. He said he does not yet know what the funding share might be.

If the funding can be found, Rosberg is hopeful the project could happen sometime next year if all the pieces, including local approval, fall into place. Ideally, the work would be combined with improvements planned by MDOT for Route 26 in the next few years, he said. Whether that work could be moved up, he said, is uncertain.

Currently, the Telstar complex must still rely on three old wells that combined generate about eight gallons a minute. In the past, said Rosberg, they reportedly produced around 12 gallons a minute.

He said custodians at the school check periodically for faucets that have been left on. In addition, broken fixtures are replaced with reduced flow equipment.

School had to be cancelled last spring when the wells went dry.

Route 26 homes online?

If the project became a reality, residents and businesses along Route 26 between the village and the school might hook up as well, said Cole.

Water hookups are optional, Cole said. In the case of sewer, the town ordinance states it is mandatory that buildings within 200 feet of sewer lines tie into the system, he said. Technically, he said, selectmen can waive the requirement, but there is a "multi-decade precedent" against such waivers.

If the line is laid, stub connections would likely also be placed at the Route 26 intersections of the Bailey Road and Forest Drive, for possible future hookups to subdivisions in those areas, Cole said. But hooking up is not currently financially realistic, he said, because the costs would have to be borne by residents.

courages thoughtfulness and respect for differing perspectives, a place where the lives of students intersect with those of some very interesting and influential adults who are sufficiently strong and generous to teach about and talk about and act on what really matters."

Kunkle thanked the alumni/ae for the part they have played in shaping Gould and making it a place that nurtures its students and prepares them well.

"Helping our kids to do here what really matters is only possible because they and I have arrived at a place that has been built and sustained by those who have come before us, those of you who have been a part of this school for many years and who have returned to visit your school today..."

"The late canoeist and naturalist Sigurd Olsen wrote, 'In the years of roaming the wilds, my campfires seem like glowing beads in a long chain of experience. Some of the beads glow more than others, and when I blow on them ever so softly, they burst into flame.'

"To those of you who have been so loyal and so dedicated to this place, I want to say that Gould Academy adds another very bright glowing bead to that chain of experience for Kathy and me."

Immediately following the Convocation, the traditional Parade of Classes made its way to Ordway Hall for the Alumni/ae Luncheon. The marchers were accompanied by fiddler Chris Leonards '03 and led by Frances Lane Dunn '26, who celebrated her 75th reunion.

At the annual awards ceremony and Alumni/ae Association annual meeting, held in Ordway Hall after the luncheon, Alberta Merrill '51 was presented with the Alumna of the Year Award, recognizing her many years of service to the school as an alumna, former employee, and class agent. Ralph Janicki received the Michael S. Stowell Volunteer Award. A trustee of the school since 1994, and the father of an alumnus and faculty member (Erik Janicki '91 teaches biology and ecology at Gould), Dr. Janicki is serving in his third year as chair of the Annual Fund.

The afternoon entertainment was provided by Gould's sports teams, who played a number of hotly contested home games, as well as by the running of the eighth annual Frank Vogt Alumni/ae Fun Run. The race began on the upper field at halftime of the girls' varsity soccer game.

For those alumni/ae who sought an alternative form of entertainment, a panel of Maine and New Hampshire recycling experts led an interactive discussion, "Recycling ... An American Dream or Reality?" in Ordway Hall, and an hour-long "Tour of a Changed Bethel" departed by bus from the Bell Tower at 3.

Games and activities were provided for children, and an ice cream social took place on the patio of Ordway Hall.

An early evening wine and cheese reception for alumni/ae and the announcement of silent auction and raffle winners capped the day on campus. Reunion classes then headed to local homes and restaurants for class dinners and parties.

On Sunday morning, alumni/ae were invited to share brunch with Gould students and faculty, followed by the Alumni/ae Soccer Game and the annual Androscoggin River canoe trip.

Fire

was owned by Richard Gottlieb of the Kennebunk area, said Harrington.

There were several LP gas explosions during the fire, which firefighters brought under control in about two hours, he said.

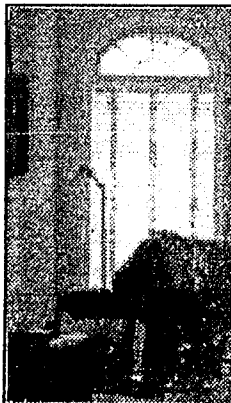

Five fire departments were involved in the response. Newry, Bethel and Greenwood responded to the scene, while Andover and Woodstock stood by at Newry and Greenwood stations. Several Woodstock firemen later came to the scene, said Harrington. The

Monday morning the fire department returned when several hot spots rekindled.

A state investigation of the fire is expected to conclude in about two weeks, Harrington said.

He said Newry's new fire truck was a big asset in fighting the fire. The house was located on the side of a steep hill, and the 3,000-gallon capacity provided a steady supply of water.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Friends and classmates met for lunch recently to celebrate the birth- days of Kay McMillin and Libby Bane. Others present were Virginia Hutchins, Virginia Keniston, Arlene Brown, Mary Eichel and Mary Keniston. C. Rodney Wentzell of Mt. Pleasant, S.C., arrived at his sister Mary and Bob Eichel's Songo Pond cottage in Albany, Erland and Margaret Wentzell of Windham were callers there last Friday.

David Salway underwent surgery on Thursday, a week ago, at the Maine Medical Center in Portland. He is expected home this week.

Esther Crockett Wilson has returned to her home following rehab in Lewiston. Her sister Grace is staying with her.

Jane Young has returned home after undergoing knee surgery. She has rehab at the Bethel Family Health Center and doing very well.

Jackie Van Leuven and two friends from Connecticut flew out of Newark, N.J. on Sept 10 for Copenhagen, Denmark. It was 3 p.m. the next day, Sept. 11, that they were told of the New York disaster, and they watched it on TV. It dampened their trip. They returned eight days later after the ban was lifted, and when the plane landed in Newark everyone cheered and clapped to be back on U.S. soil.

She was anxious then to get back to her home in Bethel. She related that Ken and Gwyneth Bohr were in Wales during this time and Steve and Linda Chandler were in Italy. Karen Withee of Gardiner was a weekend visitor of her parents, Bud and Shirley Clough on the Flat Road. On Sunday, Jodie Withee and Damien Carona and family of Gray and Ricky and Shelley Withee Rosignol and Timmy from Casco were visitors.

Melody Bonnama visited daughter Leah in New York City recently. Leah was acting as an extra on the soap, "All My Children." Her appearance will air on Oct. 25, 26 and 29. "All My Children" is seen weekdays on ABC Channel 8 at 1 p.m.

Lois Kilroy has been for rehab at the New England Rehabilitation Center, 335 Brighton Avenue, Portland, ME 04102. She is expected home sometime this week. Elizabeth Bane had family visiting her on Sunday: Doug and Sue Bane from St. Albans and Barbara Bane McLaughlin and daughter Megan of Derry, N.H.

Twenty-three Gould Academy alumni and classmates gathered at Mother's last Friday for lunch. Barbara Lucas and Louise Jacobs Richter and husband George of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., were the planners for the occasion. From Bethel were Lefty and Mary Keniston, Elizabeth Bane, Margaret Tibbets, Rita Davis, Arlene Brown, Rosalind Chapman, Bob and Ginny Keniston, all of Bethel; Bob and Mary Eichel of Albany; Erland and Margaret Wentzell of Windham; Bob and Violet Swain of Andover; Dwight and Lorna Stiles of Dummer, N.H.; Nancy Philbrook and Connie Leger of Shelburne, N.H.; and Rodney Wentzell of Mt. Pleasant, S.C.

On Sept. 21 and 22, Lindley and Pauline Wieden had the pleasure of a visit by their granddaughter, Christal Siren of Skowhegan. Sunday visitors were their daughters, Cynthia Paine of Keene, N.H., and Sylvia and Don LaFlamme of Vienna.

Visiting Bud and Mary Paine over the Gould Academy Alumni Weekend were their son Dick and wife Cindy of Keene, N.H., Roger and Nancy Adams of Connecticut, Don Ferraro of New Bedford, Mass., and Ed Dorion and Mary Nutter of Portland.

Gould Academy alumni from the classes of 1944 and 1945, Dick and Mary Woodcock, Pat and Bill Moore, Mary Nutter, and Polly Davis were guests of Hi and Mary Lou Berry at their home on Lone Pine Road on Saturday evening. Joining them later was Carl Wight, G.A. '46.

Mary Keniston compiled this week's Bethel news items.

Where are all of my friends? Some of you I have not seen since I came here in April.

Cory, I believe Sharon was the first one to welcome me to Ledgeview. She is the activity director. I am not able to join in many activities. I'm supposed to sit with my feet up most of the time.

Carroll and Bea Bean visited with his brother in Rumford on Friday.

Just 30 here on Sept. 15.

Cathy Newell was in Saturday afternoon with two picture albums, full of pictures my sister, Hazel, (Cathy's mother-in-law) had taken years ago, to see how many people I could identify.

Carroll Bean and some of his buddies went touring on the woods trails with their four-wheelers on Friday.

Will Frances Whitman and Jim and Julia D. please let me hear from them? I am worrying about them after the bad tragedy.

Davene certainly does great in caring for me.

Pastor Rick was in on Tuesday. He had not been in for some time because of a back operation. He is a little better now.

Drew and Judy Webster visited their daughter and family recently.

I would like folks to bring me cheese curls in a bag. The Hannaford ones from Shop 'n Save are great. Those in a can are too hard. I will pay for them.

I had lots of company on Wednesday. Elaine Dresser was in and brought chocolate chip cookies for Grace and me.

"Lost: 60 golden minutes, each set with 60 diamond seconds. No reward is offered, for they are gone forever."

Will those that had things from my apartment and have not already told me what they had, please let me know. I just want to know where things went. I wanted folks to have them.

The little poem in The Citizen recently should have read: "There are others more handsome by far. My face, I don't mind it because I am behind it. It is the ones out in front that jar."

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

Household hazardous waste collection for Hanover residents will be Saturday, Oct. 6, the same for most area communities. Hazardous waste items may be taken to the Bethel Recycling Center between the hours of 9 and 11 a.m. It is necessary to pre-register by calling Town Manager Scott Cole at 824-2669. Check through your home and garage for items marked "poison, corrosive, toxic, volatile, flammable, caution, danger or warning." More information is available at the Hanover Town Office. The program is organized by Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments and is hosted by the City of Auburn. The collection is operated by Clean Harbors Environmental Services, Inc.

An apparent false alarm brought Med-Care Ambulance and a state trooper to a seasonal residence on South Shore Road last Monday. Earlier, Rumford Fire Department had responded to a vehicle incident on Main Street.

Heavy rains last Tuesday did a good job alleviating the dry spell. A lot of shallow wells received a good charge of fresh water. Otherwise, there have been reports of driveway washouts and early turning foliage was stripped from the trees.

New residents being welcomed to Hanover are Mr. and Mrs. Greg Viger. They are living on Main Street. Irene and John Kuchta are new owners of the Sunflower Farm on Main Street. Also new in town is the Danielle Smith family on Mill Hill Road. A new street in Hanover, named Verrill Road, is the site of a home being built by Mr. and Mrs. Steven Perreault.

Senator and Mrs. Norman Ferguson Jr. recently returned home from a trip to Scotland that included a tour of the Hebrides Islands.

Howard Pond Campers' Association began their fall release of water from the dam on Sept. 27. Usually the water level is lowered to the natural level before the lake freezes over.

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham

It is October and the "Leaf Peepers" have begun to come. Busloads can be seen heading up the road and walking the streets. The trees are doing their part, with bright oranges and reds being seen all around. Traveling is made more pleasant with even more beauty seen from the roads.

Yesterday (Sunday), I had the pleasure of attending Bradley's 40th birthday party. There were over 60 people present, including new babies on up in age. Julie conceived of a scratch ticket tree and everyone brought scratch tickets, which we attached to the tree. I haven't heard yet how many of them were winners. Julie baked two cakes and she and I served them up with Hal Fournier scooping ice cream on each of the plates. A good time was had by all.

I returned from the party just in time to see firefighters careening into the fire station and fire trucks whizzing past. They were headed to a rental unit at Powder Ridge. This morning saw the pumper truck returning to do mop-up and make sure the fire was out.

The local skunk population has been meeting their maker as they make their way into people's gardens. That other white skunk and at least one other are gone. I did smell skunk on my way home, tonight, so perhaps the family came to look for the others. Either that or perhaps they also fell.

The K-9 Day at the Bethel Animal Hospital was well attended and a fun day. Word has it that I won something, but I have yet to find out what. It was a raffle of sorts with many different prizes. There were demonstrations of different types of dogs including guide dogs and several types of dog trainers. There was a blind dog being trained that was amazingly independent and several groups of people from different rescue groups — boxer rescue, etc.

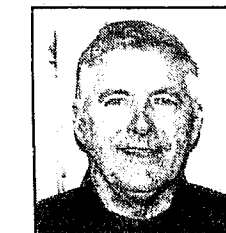

Now that I am over that bug that was going around, I am back to stacking wood. Hopefully, I will also get to start working out, again. I am still finding myself not ready to start moving in the mornings, but that will change soon so Tasha and I can get back to our early a.m. walks. It is more fun in the early a.m. when there are not as many cars traveling at high speeds down the road.

I need to thank Lisa Fox for allowing us to use her daycare for our poetry reading. We decided we needed to get out there and bring in more readers. I am going to print up some flyers and maybe make some posters. After all this time, we don't want to see it fall by the wayside.

I also need to thank everyone for expressing appreciation of my column. It is always nice to know people are reading what I write and enjoying it.

That is all for this week. Have a good week, enjoy the foliage and check out the festivals this weekend and the Fryeburg Fair.

Mason Township

by Richard Grover

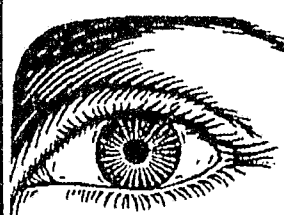

I've mentioned the Civil Air Patrol many times in the past couple years, and now I'm at it again. Last weekend, Mona and I attended a two-day training session in Augusta intended to motivate and orient new adult members in the operations of CAP.

At these sessions, we were two of twelve new, or relatively new, "seniors," as they call us. Early on, we were each asked to give reasons why we were there. I was and am totally impressed by the motivation driving every one of these people to give of their time and energy to give young people (cadets) opportunities and experiences that would otherwise be missed. These are the kind of experiences that help develop the leaders the next generation will need.

Some say CAP means "come and pay" because we are all unpaid volunteers, and most of the money needed for day-to-day operations is raised by the seniors and cadets working together on worthwhile projects. Cadets are encouraged and allowed to plan their own meetings (within guidelines and under "senior" supervision), which provide moral leadership discussions, physical training, drill, flag etiquette, aerospace education and training in one or more of numerous optional specialties, such as search and rescue (SAR), communications and even pilot training. In this program, many young people develop skills and confidence that they would never have obtained elsewhere. And many of the "seniors" are parents of cadets who initially intended to merely observe or help out while their son or daughter was in meetings or on training missions. Then they get "sucked in" by the desire to become a part of an interesting and worthwhile program. And these are people with all kinds of backgrounds, who drive everything from 20-year-old, beat-up pickup trucks to new BMWs.

In other developments, I'm back to talking about Snuffy, our now nearly year-old shepherd/husky dog. He is now large and very energetic and still loves to carry sticks around and chew the bark off them, even shredding quite a few sticks of my pine kindling. A while ago, Mona bought Snuffy a new dog bed, guaranteed to be nearly indestructible. It was made of a foam mattress, covered by a heavy canvas-like nylon covering, double stitched at the seams on two sides. Now, after Snuffy had made a couple unauthorized trips to visit Don and Elsie's dog, Ginger, Mona hitched him with his 20-foot-long chain to the deck railing by our kitchen door, his bed on the deck beside the door. Presently, she

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published here by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

Boy, I can't believe how fast the seasons go by, but it now looks like the time has come for me to dig those winter woools out of the mothballs and the heavy coats out of the back of the closet. Cold weather is setting in and I bet it's going to be another long Maine winter. It kind of creeps up on you, doesn't it?

It happens every year; sometimes a little earlier, sometimes a little later, but no matter what, it always happens. I don't ever remember a year without a winter. So how come I'm always surprised by it?

Why am I always in a state of shock the first time I go out in the morning to start my car and find it coated with a heavy frost? Why is it the window scrapers I accumulated last winter buying one every time I saw them on sale, are nowhere to be found? I must have ten different window scrapers and I end up using Popsicle sticks, credit cards and broken spoons to scrape the frost off my windshield.

I know without a doubt in my mind that the first time it snows I will be just as shocked as I am over the first frost. I also know that the boots I wore all last winter will no longer exist. And I know I will go through every drawer of every bureau and there will not be one matched pair of gloves or mittens anywhere in this house.

I have come to the conclusion that I'm not the one who is responsible for the loss of items of winters past. It's this house. When spring arrives, always much later than I want it to, all of my winter necessities are sacrificed to the God of This Old House. It's the only rational explanation.

Take my long johns for example. Actually they have all ready been taken by This Old House. From October until Easter, some years as late as Memorial Day, I live in my long johns. During the cold months they become my second skin. I wear them under sweat pants, I wear them under flannel nightgowns, I wear them under blue jeans. I even wear them under long skirts.

Now they're gone, not a single pair of my precious long johns are to be found in This Old House. I certainly didn't throw them away, I didn't even pack them away, I put them in a bureau drawer, I know I did. But are they there now? NO!

Boots! I'll admit I'm careless with my boots. I kick them off and they end up under the sofa or a chair, sometimes they even end up under my bed, but they always end up somewhere. I clearly remember, after tripping over the darn things most of the summer that I put them in the closet where I put everything else that gets in the way. And now they're gone. They couldn't have just disappeared, but I can't find them.

I don't see the point of driving myself crazy looking for gloves and mittens. I know they're gone or at least one hand of each pair will be missing. The God of This Old House must be one handed because he/she always leaves me with one glove or mitten and it's always the same hand so I can't even get by with a mismatched pair.

Last winter I developed a very close relationship with the snow shovel. During February and March I used it every other day it seems. I know I was very pleased when I could put it away for the year and I know I was very careful to put it somewhere so I wouldn't have to look at it again until I go to find it. And even though I know right where I put it I also know that when I go to get it the first time I have to shovel it won't be there.

If the God of This Old House is one handed as is evident from the missing gloves, one would think he/she would have no use for a snow shovel, but I know it will be missing nonetheless.

I have no doubt that when I go looking for my big turkey platter that I use every year for Thanksgiving it won't be where I put it. I put it in the bottom of one of my kitchen cabinets and the darn thing is really big, but I'm willing to bet it will be among the missing by next month. I can be pretty sure that the Christmas tree stand will have gone AWOL with the turkey platter too.

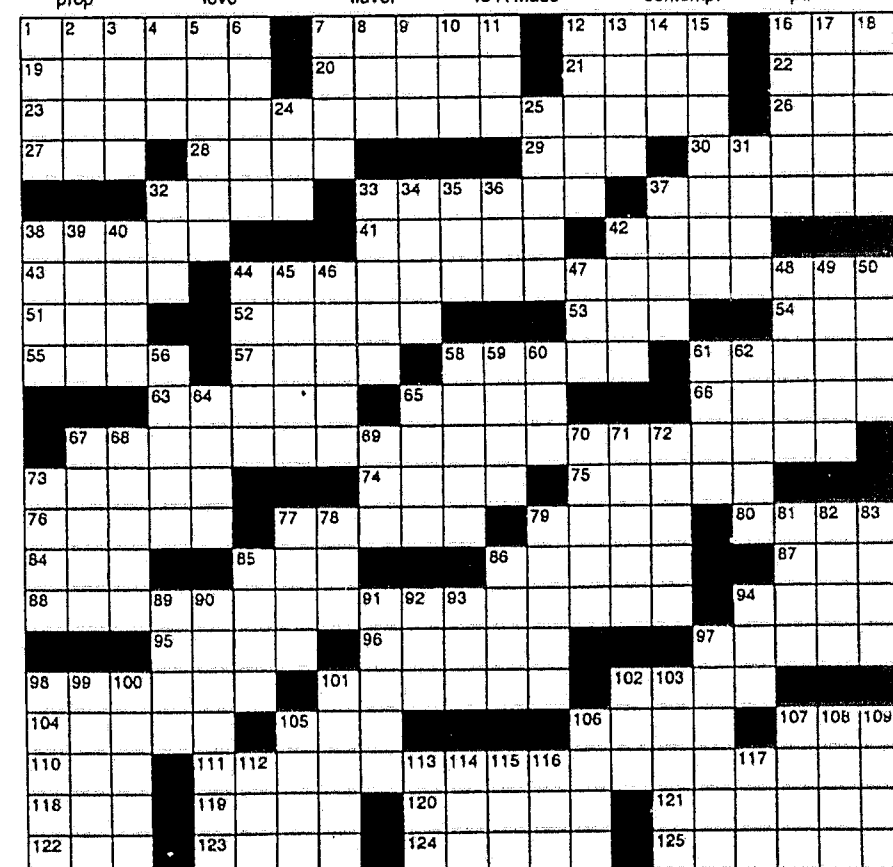

I think the God of This Old House likes to mess with my head. The clothing, both summer and winter that he/she doesn't take, I'm pretty sure that he/she takes the seams in because they never fit as well as they did the last time I wore them.

So each year I seem to spend a bundle on replacing the items that This Old House has gobbled up. If I were you I think I would be investing in the company that makes snow scrapers because as sure as the snow will be falling before we know it, I will be buying many more snow scrapers.

The way I see it This Old House is afraid of thunder, This Old House is afraid of rain, This Old House keeps taking my belongings and This Old House is a royal pain. I know, that's pretty weak, but my book on Modern Poetry Construction seems to be missing too.

First I want to say that Sis Post left Bethel to go live in Vermont instead of New Hampshire, as I had written.

Clarence Bailey is in Maine Medical Center, Portland. He suffered a heart attack last Sunday. Prayers and cards would be most welcome.

Congratulations to Tracey Wotton of Canton. She won the Rangeley Boat raffle the Andover Congregational Church ran this past summer.

SRA Courtney A. Swain arrived in Italy on Sept. 25 from McConnell AFB in Kansas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Swain of Lexington, Ky., and the granddaughter of Violet and Robert Swain of East Andover. And she's not in Kansas anymore, Toto.

People who will be a year older in the coming week include Lola Purcell on the 5th, Polly Ann Johnson and Travis Sims on the 6th, Andrea Savitz, Joshua Thurston and Jerome Herick on the 7th, Gerry Michaud, Jayme Wardwell and Erica Moren on the 8th, Dennis Bodemer and Brenda Bailey on the 9th, Vickie Meisner and Maria Cornwell on the 10th, Vicky Hughes on the 11th. Happy Birthday, everyone.

Jean Stinson Shafer of Grand Rapids, Mich., spent last week visiting with her mother, Marjorie Stinson of East Andover. We also want to thank Mrs. Stinson for the donation of the American Flag that is hanging at the town office. It is in memory of Ralph Stinson, who was a WWII veteran.

I traveled to Portland twice last week. I know I know I'm a glutton for punishment, and it was gratifying to see the many different ways people are showing that they are proud to be Americans. Flags, slogans, and yellow ribbons are everywhere. It's too bad that it takes a tragedy to make things like this happen, but it's nice to see anyway.

I know that this is going to do me in trouble, but I'm going to do it anyway. Get ready for a "Blonde" joke. A blonde and a brunette were talking one day and the blonde said to the brunette, "I can name the capital of every state in the union." "Oh, come on," said the brunette, "you can't do that, not too many people can." "Try me," said the blonde. "Okay," said the brunette, "name the capital of Wisconsin." "W" said the blonde.

The word of the week is pulsar. Look it up. See ya.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

True fall is here in all her glory. The foliage from Grafton Notch to Dixville Notch is at peak. There is no shortage of "Leaf Peepers" observing the short-lived blaze of color in the mountains. Route 16 from Magalloway to Berlin is also a veritable feast for the eyes. God's country, that is what it is.

Due to its name, the Bull Moose Campground is host to a huge bull moose. Driving at night down Route 26 can be an unnerving experience when you know "Bullwinkle" expands his territory to the road after dark.

The weather has held out longer than most years. There has been very little frost damage to the flowers. It usually rains when the Fryburg Fair takes place, but this year the rain has been scarce. Lucille and Earl Largesse, the Kenneys and the Wixoms attended the fair early in the week. Other folks plan to attend later in the week. I can smell the sausage and fried dough as I write.

The Planning Board met on Saturday, the 29th of September and four permits were granted.

The Ladies Aid met on Tuesday for a craft session. It was a fun project making artificial pumpkins. Ginny Williamson brought the plan and Lucille Largesse provided all the paraphernalia for construction. They will be stored away to be used at the Craft Fair next summer.

Carolyn and Carl Taylor returned to Upton on Friday and were shocked at the level of the water in the lake. They removed their boat two weeks ago, much to their relief. Many boats are stranded on rocks, quite a distance from the water's edge. Gene Wixom's pontoon boat is still at his dock. He is waiting for the flood (like Noah). His runabout is hanging off the dock by a rope. The Bay of Fundy's tide at low tide seems quite ordinary when you see the level of Lake Umbagog.

The flight birds don't seem to mind low water. New flocks pass over and stop for a rest. There are quite a variety represented but they make very brief stops. Canada Geese in "V" formation fly over most days honking their way south. Signs of winter preparation are seen at most homes. Larry and Charlie "Brown" Lavallee put new heat tapes on our roof last week. The oil trucks are more visible than during the summer. (What a horrible thought.)

Fall is surely here when you see the return of the Canada jays to the bird feeders. Larry and Sue Nelson had a visit from these wonderful birds on Saturday. The monarch butterflies are enjoying themselves in the milkweed down by the Dead, Cambridge River.

As I write this there is a flock of robins on the lawn. They also must be stirred by that mysterious feeling to congregate and head south. It seems like yesterday I was calling the neighbors that I had spotted the first robin last spring.

Visiting in town this week were Paul Casey's mom and dad. Paul put his dad to work clearing away last year's "blow downs" while mom played with her grandchildren.

Joy and Jim Yarnell have returned from their vacation in Ithaca, N.Y., visiting with old friends.

The "Bird of the Week" is the "Seasonal Leaf Peeper." They pass through the North Country every fall. Most of these birds were able to be dressed in summer plumage with the fine weather that we have been having. Every day small flocks congregate up on Route 26 at Pat Kenyon's and Fred Bigladeau's. They perch and take many pictures of the fantastic view down over the lake and mountains. Those black skid marks on the road are from cars that were passing through Upton, thinking that we didn't have much to offer in the scenery here; and they come to an abrupt stop with camera in hand. The "Leaf Peeper" knows when he is in God's Country, and I hope he comes again to appreciate it. (Then goes home.)

Items given to the Historical Society lately are from the town office, blueprints of the old Woodstock High School and grammar school. Nancy Willard gave a large copy of a newspaper article on square dancing in Bryant Pond years ago. Curator Larry Billings has given a book on historic Britain, a whole collection of books on countries around the world and a book on wildlife. He is trying to build up the research library, but the real strength of our society will probably remain its exhibits for quite some time.

The Historical Society has limited membership. When Larry visited the society president, Elsie Bonney, she said she would like to build up the membership. So they remind you that anyone can join and help out. Remember, change can start locally as easily as globally and organizations like this can make a difference in troubled times. The museum is a fine facility and its programs and activities are notable. Give it your support.

Curator Larry Billings sent some material to the recent cultural town meeting. He had a nice talk with Vicki Rackliffe of the Mahosuc Arts Council recently. He also gave some more old photos from the society's files to "The Bethel Citizen" to print. Larry notes that a couple times he has enjoyed petting the burros at the Mexican restaurant. They are really cute. Being constructive is so important to building up an organization or contributing to a cooperative spirit in any community. Do not criticize or belittle the honest efforts of others. That is destructive and counterproductive.

Curator Larry Billings answers brief questions on culture and bills the society museum as a cultural center because of his interest in the subject. You may have noticed cultural town meetings are being held throughout the area so interest is widespread and Larry was perceptive enough to get Woodstock in on the ground floor. He has even written a short book on culture. He has donated some of his writing to the society. The blueprints of the old Woodstock High School that were donated to the society are very historic, and the society members and Woodstock alumni will be very grateful. The society museum is the repository of much local memorabilia. Townspeople can all enjoy it there.

Here it is October. All I can say, "I find it hard to believe." It is said better in verse than I can say it. "There's a whisper in the woodland. There's a murmur in the brake. There's a scarlet gypsy mangle dancing by the mirror lake. There's a scarecrow in the cornfield that's a shiver with the chill. O there's crimson in the river and there's orange on the hill. There's a tenseness in the evening, as the russet apples drop. And the moonlight glistens mellow on the corn and pumpkin crop. There's a purple haze of asters in the meadow and the wall is ablaze with streamers for the carnival of fall." - Stanley F. Bartlett.

The week just gone was a busy one and this one has started the same. I have had surgery on my right thumb, so I have had two visits to the hospital. All is doing well and so I'll be on the mend.

Just two short weeks ago our country suffered an unprecedented attack by terrorists. These terrible people sought to bring America to her knees — little did they know America would indeed go to her knees — to pray to God. People who never ever go to church are, while people who used to but got out of the habit of church going, have returned in large numbers. Hope we never become so complacent again — taking freedoms for granted. We should thank God every day of our lives for all our many blessings.

Am really upset by something else in yesterday's news. Two men from Maine stole a fireman's coat and a policeman's hat at the World Trade Center. How on earth could anyone in good conscience steal from a dying person? That person probably gave his life saving someone else. Am sorry these two low-life scum come from our fair state.

Before any of you retired, you probably thought, "I don't know what I'll do with myself." Guess again.

Grange 298 meeting at their hall at 4 Church Street, West Paris. Certificates will be given out for meritorious service. Refreshments will be served downstairs after.

West Paris Senior Citizens will meet Oct. 9 at the Route 26 home of Elsie Haynes at 12 noon for a potluck lunch, meeting and program.

Now that it is fall again, our thoughts turn once more to craft fairs and harvest suppers. West Paris Grange 298 will hold their annual Fall Sale on Saturday, Oct. 20 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Anyone wanting to rent a table should call Kathleen Holden at 674-2975.

Also on the evening of Saturday, Oct. 20, West Paris Grange will hold a Harvest Supper from 5 to 6 p.m. The price will be $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12. Come out and enjoy this bountiful repast. Such a delicious meal topped with a nice slice of pie cannot be beat.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. What a beautiful fall day this is.

Timmy Barker from North Carolina has been visiting his folks, Carleton and Mertice Barker, a few days this past week.

Wednesday, Sept. 26, the Stoneham Planning Board met to discuss a few matters on permits.

On Sept. 26, the Oxford County United Parish met at the Stoneham Church Vestry at 2 p.m. with seven members present. Secretary and treasurer's reports were read, discussed and accepted. The Rev. Froberg would like to get a church newsletter started again. If you have some news or articles of interest, please contact him at 693-6461 or Sonja Millett at 583-4467. It would be greatly appreciated.

You know, on Sept. 21, I went to three local stores here and not one of them had any "Happy Birthday" cake decorations. I guess they think people here are talented at decorating, but I'm not one of them. I did come home and scrawled "Happy Birthday, Al," which didn't look too bad after all, and it tasted better than the hard candy ones. So there. That's the way they say the mop flops and the cookie crumbs.

Oh, by the way, Sunday School starts on Oct. 15 at North Waterford. Would like to see more children attend. If you need transportation, please let someone know and we'll get them there.

The next Parish meeting is scheduled for Nov. 28. Will remind you at a later date.

The candlelight service this year will be Christmas Eve at 5 p.m. at North Waterford.

You know, Albert had to apologize to our dog, "Katie." He thought she had wet on the kitchen floor last week one night and come to find out, it was the sweet cider jug that had leaked. Half of it was gone. He told her he was sorry and gave her a treat.

Installation of the Rev. Froberg by the Oxford Association will be held on Sunday, Oct. 14, at 2 p.m. at the Stoneham Church. We hope you will come and celebrate with us.

The harvest supper is Thursday, Oct. 11, at 5 p.m. at the Stoneham Church.

From the Bethel Conservation Commission

Attention, residents of Bethel, Newry and Hanover: the annual Household Hazardous Waste Collection is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 6 — mark it on your calendar. The hours will be 9 to 11 a.m. at the Bethel Recycling Center and Transfer Station. Please pre-register by calling 824-2669. This is your opportunity to get rid of no-longer-usable materials that are toxic, flammable, corrosive, or reactive, in an environmentally responsible manner. Pick up a flyer at your town office to get complete details.

No longer-usable paints should be separated into two categories, latex (water based) and oil based. Latex paints are not considered hazardous waste. Latex paint containers can be left open (away from children and pets) to let the contents slowly harden to a solid, which can be included with regular household trash. Also ok as regular household trash are empty oil-based paint containers or containers with completely dried-up residue. Oil-based paints, varnishes, stains, etc., that are still liquid should be brought to the hazardous waste collection.

Used motor oil and antifreeze are accepted at the hazardous waste collection, but you can save the town (and therefore yourself) money by asking your local garage or service station whether they take these materials. If they don't, they can often refer you to someone who does.

A final suggestion is to think of relatives or friends who, because of age or health, could use your help in ridding their home of hazardous materials.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Dr. Paul Frederic, a geography professor at the University of Maine at Farmington, will be the featured speaker at the next lecture sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society at its Regional History Center on Oct. 11, beginning at 7:30 p.m. His topic will be, "Canning Gold: The Rise and Fall of the Sweet Corn Industry in Northern New England."

Maine developed a reputation for the outstanding flavor of its canned corn and Frederic will discuss the marketing of this product as well as other details of this long vanished industry that employed countless northern New Englanders in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Professor Frederic is in the final stages of a forthcoming book on this topic.

The lecture is free and open to anyone interested in attending.

From the Bethel Rotary Club

This week in Rotary, the Club held "Ask the Pro," where members asked questions about their fellow members' profession. We learned more about the profession of a realtor, investment broker, doctor, and retired military person. This program prepares us for the commemoration of Vocational Service Month in October.

The tragic events on Sept. 11 in New York City, Washington, D.C., and Pennsylvania continue to tug at us and it has called many people to action to assist those in desperate need. Hundreds of volunteers worked countless hours to find survivors, console friends and family members, and donate life-saving blood to the service of other Americans. Rotary is an organization whose very history is based on the motto of "Service Above Self" and we applaud the heroic actions of all volunteers and relief workers who have dedicated their time to help victims and their families. Their spirit inspired our Rotary Club members to do whatever we could do to get involved, too. Many members have donated blood, contributed needed supplies, and made contributions. Our club will be supporting and working directly with the clubs and districts in these affected areas.

Four districts are seeking monetary assistance to provide aid to the recovery efforts as well as help in the long-term needs of the families who have lost loved ones in this disaster. In District 7250, made up of Brooklyn, Queens and Nassau County, it is estimated that 60 to 70 percent of the families affected by this disaster live in this district. Contact information to make a donation to an affected district can be found on The Rotary International Website: www.rotary.org

We heard from our Ambassadorial Scholar, Alex Gillies, in Ghana this week. Things have been going well for her although the last couple of weeks have been challenging. While adjusting to a new country, she is dealing with the Sept. 11 events, too. It has been difficult for her to be so far away from home at this time, but despite the difficulty, she believes that her voice has been an important contribution to her classes and conversations with Ghanaians. Of the 31 students in her program, she is the only foreigner. She has been able to provide a face for the U.S. to a small country that easily views the U.S. as a faceless monolith so influenced by its policies. She is getting a crash course in diplomacy every day.

She is starting to feel more comfortable there and continues to be amazed at the hospitality of the people. At a recent Ghanaian dinner, she took a particular liking to fufu — a mushy starch made from ground cassava root that you eat with several kinds of soups. Although the produce there is plentiful and reasonable — fresh pineapple, papaya, bananas, etc. — she does have a craving for a cheeseburger. Her experience continues to be exciting and unpredictable. It almost seems normal for her now for everyone to carry items on top of their head, for taxis to cost less than a dollar, and for her to be the only Caucasian face in the crowd. She is reminded that she is very far away from western Maine when she sees a monkey in a tree, or dancing and drumming at a funeral, or an alien-like insect land on her arm. We join her in looking forward to what the rest of her year will be like.

Calendar items: October — Vocational Service Month; October/November — Look for the Poinsettia Sale; Nov. 25 — Country Pancake Breakfast; Dec. 11 — Senior Dinner

Inside Rotary: Thank you to Dave Conary for arranging the Bethel area blood drive; Thank you to Dave Nivus for all your behind-the-scenes work with community services; Thank you Steve Wight for hosting the International student contingency; Bob, how was the ballet?

Upcoming programs include Paul Casey, Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge; Club Assembly; Rotary Awareness Day; Sister Michael Marie Laux, St. Theresa's School for Girls, Genkano, Kenya.

Rotary International is an international service organization of 1.2 million business and professional men and women who, as volunteers, address needs of their home and international communities.

The Bethel Rotary Club meets Tuesdays at 7:30 a.m. at The Bethel Inn and Country Club through Oct. 16. The Oct. 23 meeting will be hosted by the Bethel Historical Society at the Moses Mason House.

Maine Handicapped Skiing

Maine Handicapped Skiing is Maine's largest winter adaptive recreational program for adults and children with physical disabilities. It will hold its annual Open House on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 6 and 7, at its headquarters at Sunday River Ski Resort and at the site of its weekend program, Sugarloaf/USA (at the Base Lodge). Both Open Houses will run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Each year Maine Handicapped Skiing invites the public, along with volunteers and participants, to come check out the facilities, new equipment and talk with staff about upcoming program activities and plans for the new season.

On Saturday and Sunday, both Sunday River and Sugarloaf/USA host popular annual Arts and Crafts fairs at their respective resorts along with chairlift rides on the mountain where visitors can experience the magnificent fall colors at their best.

If you are looking for a fun weekend come visit two of Maine's premiere ski resorts. Come by Maine Handicapped Skiing and learn all about our exciting plans for our 20th anniversary year, 2002.

For more information on the Open Houses or directions to Sunday River or Sugarloaf/USA, please call (800) 639-7770 or e-mail at info@skimhs.org

Volunteers Sought
Maine Handicapped Skiing is looking for volunteers to teach downhill and cross-country skiing, snowboarding and snowshoeing this coming winter. Over 300 volunteers presently teach 200+ adults and children with physical disabilities at Sunday River Ski Resort, Sugarloaf/USA, and Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center.

Volunteers must be at least 18 years of age or older, be an intermediate skier or rider, have their own ski or snowboard equipment, and be willing to donate 10 days during the MHS season, which runs from Jan. 2 to March 15, 2002. Volunteers are required to take three days of training during November and October. Volunteers learn about the types of physical

HE SEARCHES HIGH AND LOW

Meet Jonathan Van Fleet, reporter for the Sun Journal. He can be found anywhere from the top of Mt. Katahdin to the basement of the Lewiston City Building in search of news. Jon is proud of his outdoor, sometimes offbeat stories, like interviewing the weatherman on the top of Mt. Washington. But he thinks the most important stories are those that help keep citizens informed. Staying on top of a City Council issue or a mountain, Jon gives our readers the facts.

disabilities served at Maine Handicapped Skiing, adaptive techniques on and off the snow to assist in teaching skiing and snowboarding, and much more.

A complimentary ski or trail pass is given for each day of volunteering, courtesy of Sunday River Ski Resort, Sugarloaf/USA or Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center.

Other types of volunteers are also needed at Maine Handicapped Skiing. Snowmobiles are used to transport students up the mountain on many occasions and experienced snowmobilers are needed to assist MHS participants. Photographers and videographers are needed to take photos and videos at all three locations throughout the season.

If you like to be indoors, MHS can always use volunteers to assist staff in the main office with mailings, photocopying, and answering the phone. Maine Handicapped Skiing's one-day fundraiser, the Ski-A-Thon, held on Saturday, March 16, 2002, needs many volunteers on the day of the event to help with registration, transport, refreshments and more.

For more information on becoming a volunteer at Maine Handicapped Skiing, please call (800) 639-7770 or e-mail info@skimhs.org. Check out our Web site at www.skimhs.org to learn more about MHS.

Please join us this winter for the time of your life!

From the

Oxford County Republicans

Mark Ellis, secretary and Webmaster of the Maine Republican Party was the featured speaker at the September monthly meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee held at Alder River Grange in East Bethel on Sept. 11. Mr. Ellis described his work at the party headquarters in Hallowell and the increasing dependence upon electronic media in electoral politics and getting the party's message out to the voting public.

Following a beef stew dinner, a business meeting was held. In light of what happened earlier in the day at the Pentagon and in New York and Pennsylvania, it was voted to send a contribution to the American Red Cross. A special prayer for the occasion was led by the Rev. Earl Bell of Waterford.

Voter lists to be submitted to the state headquarters were again discussed and possible candidates for next year's election reviewed. Among those officeholders introduced were Rep. Tom Winsor (R-Norway), Sen. Norman K. Ferguson (R-Hanover), and Rep. Arlan Jodrey (R-Bethel). Rep. Jodrey introduced Alison Suzy of the Republican Legislative office.

The next meeting will be held on Oct. 9 at Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond, with a 5:30 p.m. social hour, a 6:30 p.m. meatloaf supper, and a 7:30 p.m. meeting. The speaker for the evening will be Jack Richardson of Paris Hill, a retired FBI agent, who will make a presentation on the timely subject of counter terrorism. All area Republicans are cordially invited to attend.

From the

Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democratic Committee will meet on Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Fire Station in Dixfield. The meeting is open to all Democrats and others interested and will feature remarks by candidates for office, or their representatives, as well as a variety of committee updates. There will also be a Platform Hearing on the 2002 Democratic Party Platform. Those attending are encouraged to review the 2000 platform, which is on the State Democratic Committee Web page, www.mainedems.org, prior to the meeting.

Anyone interested in becoming involved with Democratic activities is invited to attend the meeting or to contact Oxford County Democratic Committee chair Cathy Newell of Greenwood, 875-2116, or cathynew@bdc.bethel.me.us.

Notes from

The Telstar Adult Education program will offer a number of classes starting during the month of October. Programs starting on Oct. 4 are: Friends and Family, CPR, and Troubleshooting, Keeping You and Your Computer Happy.

On Oct. 8, Cathi diCocco will begin her exciting culinary series at the Café diCocoa featuring a different topic on Monday nights.

A three-week class, Specialty Foods for the Holidays will begin on Oct. 9 at Telstar with Jane Poulin. She will also offer classes beginning on Oct. 10 and 11, Country Christmas Ornaments and Creating with Kids.

On Oct. 11, there will be a class in CPR at the Bethel Area Health Center, which is also open to those seeking to be recertified. The week will conclude with a Breadbaking class on Saturday, Oct. 13, at Telstar with Audrey Brooke.

A beginning class in Microsoft Excel will begin on Oct. 15, as will a class in Internet Surfing and E-mail.

Partner Massage will begin on Oct. 16, Raising and Caring for Goats on Oct. 17, and Oct. 18 will feature a workshop on Conservation Easements from the Landowner's Perspective, Defensive Driving, and a slide-lecture on "Biking in the Netherlands." On Oct. 24, Gentle Yoga and Powerpoint classes will begin.

For complete course descriptions and information on time, location and pricing, call the Adult Education office, 824-2780.

From the

White Mountain National Forest

The White Mountain National Forest has been operating most of its campgrounds for the last five years with the assistance of private business ventures known as concessionaires. Through this arrangement, the Forest Service has been able to stretch the money allocated by Congress for recreation programs. Income from campgrounds pays for both annual and long-term maintenance needs at the campgrounds. Work accomplished under this arrangement includes installation of bear-resistant dumpsters and the replacement of septic systems.

The five-year term of most of these permits is due to expire in December of 2001. We are in the process of seeking bids for the operation of 21 campgrounds, South Pond Day Use Area and two picnic areas. Bids are due Nov. 1, 2001 with award scheduled on or about Dec. 1, 2001.

The sites have been grouped into six separate bid packages, allowing businesses of different sizes to bid on a package that they can manage. Bidders will be able to make proposals for the operation of one or more of these bid groupings for the next five years, with the possibility of an extension for up to five additional years.

A complete description of the bid process is available. Individuals interested in obtaining this information should send their mailing address to Dave Pratt at 710 N. Main Street, Laconia, NH 03246, phone him at (603) 528-8721, or e-mail him at dpratt@fs.fed.us. The information is also available on the Web page at www.fs.fed.us/r9/white

School Sports

High School Boys' Varsity Soccer

Telstar 4, Winthrop 2; Oct. 1—Telstar's Peter Poor, Kurt Wight, Matt Newell and Kinsey Durgin each scored a goal in a win over Winthrop. Goalie Jeremy Benson had six saves.

Gould 1, Kents Hill 0; Sept. 29—Bora Yetis scored the only goal of the game on a ball from Scott Kiesel in Saturday's game, played before a cheering Alumni/ae Weekend crowd. According to Coach Brett Shifrin, "The steady play of Brian Broderick in the back and Greg Schroy's save on a penalty kick helped ensure the single goal would be enough to win. Dylan Hood, Emmett Donovan, Matt McCawley, Zeke Davisson, Scott Kiesel, and Ryan Wheeler helped control play in the midfield. These players initiated our many scoring chances by playing penetrating balls to the forwards, Bora Yetis and Friedrich Anger. Every member of the team did his part to help the team play well."

Telstar 3, Lisbon 1; Sept. 29—Telstar's Wade Osgood, Matt Newell and Kinsey Durgin each scored goals in a win over Lisbon. Durgin also had an assist. Goalie Kurt Wight had five saves. The Rebels outshot Lisbon, 16-6.

Telstar 2, Mountain Valley 1; Sept. 26—Telstar's Wade Osgood and Kurt Wight each scored a goal in a win over Mt. Valley. Gavin Palmer had an assist and goalie Jeremy Benson had nine saves.

Gould 0, Hebron 0; Sept. 26—The boys' varsity soccer team played a hard-fought game at Hebron last Wednesday, defending well as a unit and creating numerous good scoring opportunities. They were well-matched by the Hebron team, however, and after two five-minute overtime periods and two five-minute "sudden death" overtime periods, the game ended in a scoreless tie.

High School Boys' J.V. Soccer

Gould 3, Kents Hill 1; Sept. 29—Gould defeated Kents Hill before an Alumni/ae Weekend crowd on Saturday. Yeon Seuk Park, Chris Gould, and Mike Lanigan each scored a goal for Gould.

Hebron 1, Gould 0; Sept. 26—Despite an outstanding performance by Gould's defense, anchored by goaltender Charlie Edwards, the Huskies lost a close game to Hebron Academy.

Boys' High School J.V.B. Soccer

Gould 2, Proctor 2; Sept. 26—Gould's J.V.B. soccer team played to a 2-2 tie with Proctor Academy on Wednesday. Ben Oyer and Jeff Kiesel scored goals for Gould, both of them coming in the first half off assists by Stefan Bettaglio. Proctor scored late in the game to preserve the tie. The J.V.B. team's record now stands at 1-1-1.

Girls' High School Varsity Soccer

Gould 5, Kents Hill 2; Sept. 29—The Gould girls' varsity squad improved their season record to 3-1 with a win on their home field Saturday over Kents Hill. Adora Burke had an outstanding game, scoring three of Gould's goals. Kate Warner and Megan Holtham each had one goal and one assist. Coach Lauren Head commended the team's effort: "Gould played an excellent passing game, especially in the second half."

Gould 2, Hebron 1; Sept. 26—Kate Warner and Sarah Velte each scored a goal, and Mira Jube and Adora Burke each had an assist in Gould's victory over Hebron Academy on Wednesday. Lani Malapan and Megan Holtham were also notable contributors to the win.

Girls' High School J.V. Soccer

Gould 2, Kents Hill 1; Sept. 29—Lizzie Healy scored both of Gould's

OVERWHELMING OFFENSE, DOMINATING DEFENSE—Telstar's Lauren Hart fires a shot on goal in a recent game against Livermore Falls. The Rebels won, 6-0. Telstar was undefeated as of Tuesday, and has twice beaten previously-undefeated Winthrop.

goals, with assists from Delia Hobbins and Keri Gilbert, as the Huskies picked up their first win of the season after ties in their two previous outings.

Gould 1, Hebron 1; Sept. 26—For the second game in a row, Gould played to a 1-1 tie in Hebron last Wednesday. According to Coach Denise Manning, "Chrissy Casey scored the Huskies' lone goal with a beautiful soaring shot taken from well outside the 18."

High School Varsity Field Hockey

Gould 1, Proctor 0; Sept. 29—In a close match on Saturday, the Gould defense worked hard to prevent Proctor from scoring, extending the Huskies' shutout streak to three games and improving their season record to 3-0. Susie Sams scored the game's only goal off an assist from Danielle Riss in the first half.

Telstar 3, Winthrop 0; Sept. 28—Telstar's Alanna Borst scored twice and Katie Wight once in a win over Winthrop. Mariah Seames had two assists on Borst's goals, and Wight's was unassisted. Goalie Maegan Gaudreau had five saves. "The team picked up the pace in the second half and put three goals in; the last goal was with 1:38 left to play, which shows the team stayed intense," said coach Gail Wight.

Gould 3, Hebron 0; Sept. 26—Susie Sams, Danielle Riss, and Cassie Mason each scored a goal for Gould in a shut-out of Hebron Academy last Wednesday in Hebron. Hebron held the Huskies scoreless throughout the first half, but in the second half, they were able to capitalize on great crosses by Robin Chace, who set up all of Gould's scoring drives. Riss also picked up an assist in the game.

Telstar 2, Jay 0; Sept. 26—Telstar's Nikki Roberts scored on an assist from Mariah Seames and Katie Wight scored on a rebound from a defensive clear. Goalie Maegan Gaudreau had six saves. "Maegan picked up a lot of distance on her clears, all of them going across the 25-yardline," said coach Gail Wight. "After a slow start, the team refocused and played a much more aggressive second half."

Co-ed Varsity Golf

Gould 4, Bridgton 2; Sept. 26—Josh LeMay, Rory Dwyer, Marcus Leslie, and Aidan Payson scored points for Gould as the Huskies won their first match of the season over Bridgton Academy at the Bridgton Highlands Country Club.

Kents Hill 3.5, Gould 2.5; Sept. 29—The Gould golf team lost a very close contest to the Kents Hill team in a match called due to darkness. The final score of 3.5-2.5 was the result of wins by Charles Dresser and Josh LeMay, and a tie by Ben Otte. Rory Dwyer and Sam Knowlton shot very good scores, but were not able to complete their rounds due to the darkness.

High School Boys' Cross-country

Eighth Annual Frank Vogt Fun Run, Sept. 29—Evan Daigneault was the overall winner of Saturday's part of Gould Academy's Alumni/ae Weekend festivities. In addition to his overall win, it was the fourth consecutive year that Daigneault, a senior, was the top finisher from Gould's cross-country team. Team members Chris Leonards, Kyle Rodgers, Matt Martel, and Brian Quirk took second through fifth places in the race, with faculty member and 1991 Gould graduate Erik Janicki placing 6th (first among alumni runners).

Madison 23, Telstar 38, Wiscasset 71; Sept. 26—Individual Telstar places out of 35 runners: Fred Bailey 1st, Joe Reynolds 4th, Bryan Wilson 8th, John Reuter 10th, Dave Barton 15th, Dustin Angevine 16th, Mark Tanguay 19th, Andy Aloisio 27th. Bailey, Reynolds, Reuter, Barton, and Aloisio ran personal records for the Telstar course.

Telstar 30, Monmouth 26, Richmond no score, Winthrop ns, Averill ns; Sept. 29—Telstar individual places (29 runners): Fred Bailey, 1st; John Reuter, 6th; Bryan Wilson, 7th; Joe Reynolds, 8th; Mark Tanguay, 14th; Dave Barton, 16th; Dustin Angevine, 19th; Andy Aloisio, 27th. Personal records were turned in by Aloisio, Reuter, Barton, and Tanguay.

High School Girls' Cross-country

Eighth Annual Frank Vogt Fun Run; Sept. 29—Kaitlyn McElroy was the first female finisher from the cross-country team, and Erika Dresser Penczer '86 was first among Gould alumnae racers.

Richmond 40, Monmouth 21, Telstar no score, Winthrop ns, Averill ns; Sept. 29—Individual Telstar places (27 runners): Anna Willard 1st, Sarah Gamble 7th, Shonna Young 26th. Anna Willard broke her own course record at Monmouth, running a 20:31 for 3.1 miles.

Wiscasset 36, Jay 41, Madison 47; Sept. 26—Individual Telstar results: Anna Willard 1st, Brianne Bailey 5th, Sarah Gamble 13th, Shonna Young 27th. All four girls ran personal records for the Telstar course. Willard's time of 19:35 broke her old course mark by 11 seconds.

TMS J.V. Field Hockey

Telstar 2, Livermore Falls 1; Sept. 27—Telstar's Sarah Swan and Kristie Carver scored goals in a win over Livermore. Carver's goal came with one minute left in the game. "They played an exciting game," said coach Liza Fyrberg. "Excellent teamwork. Great saves were made by goalie Whitney James, and excellent defense was played by Danielle Forkus, Amber Morin and Ashley Lowe."

NOW News

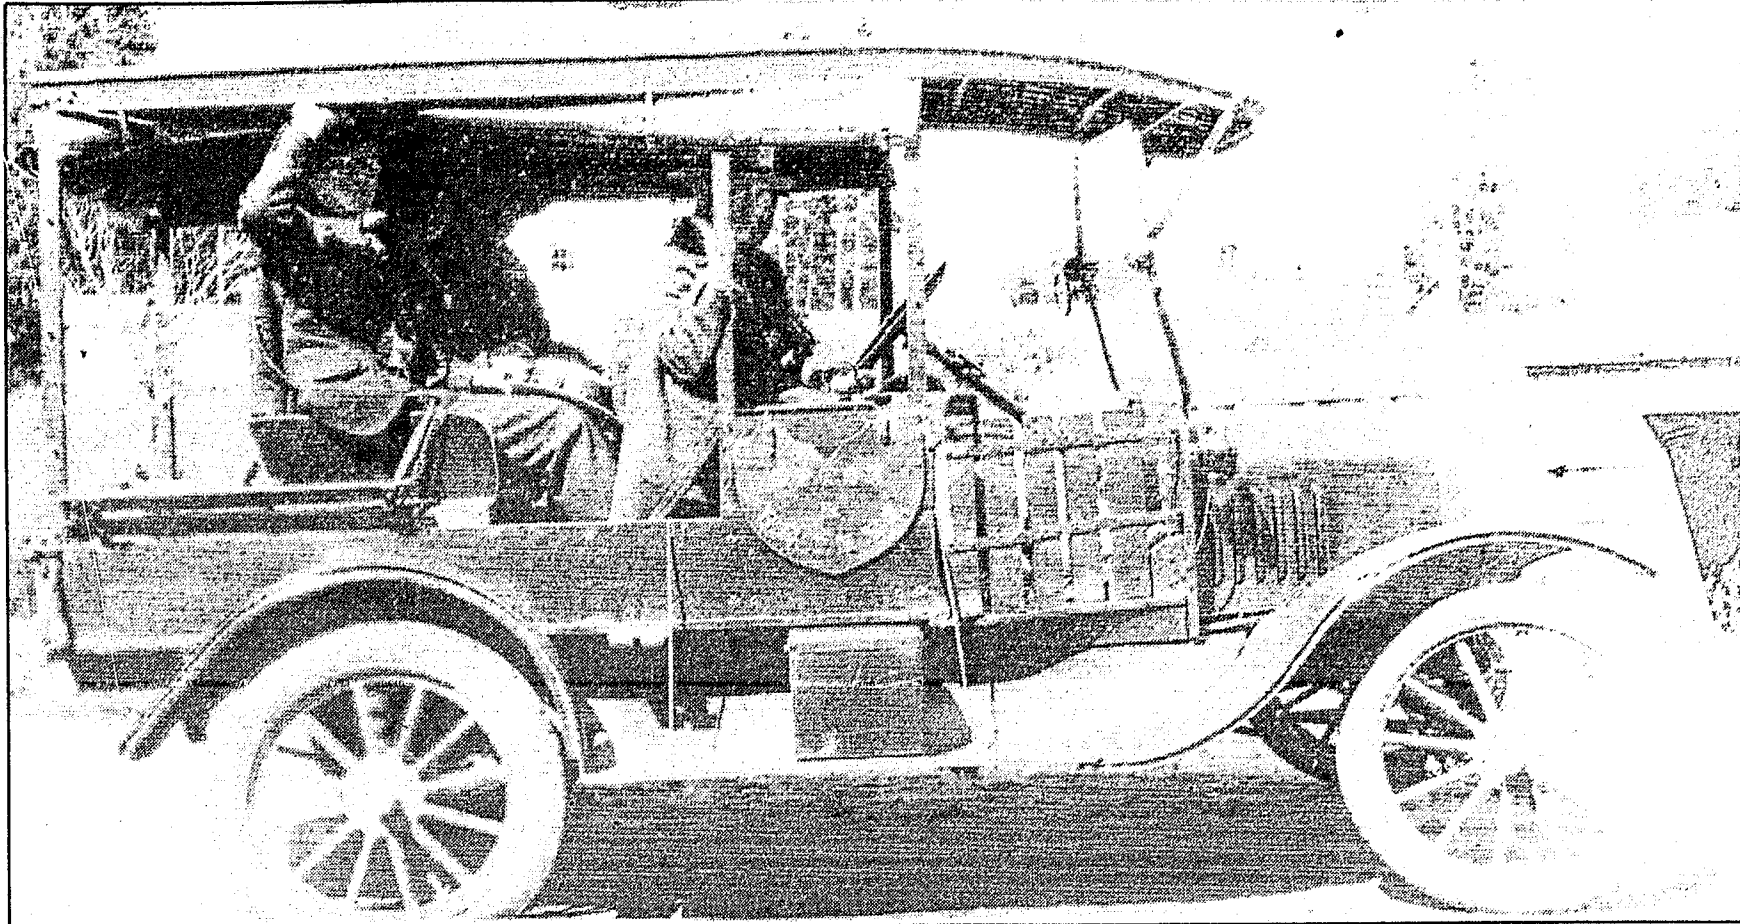

For a comprehensive prevention program to be successful, members from all corners of the community must be involved. Recently, the school health coordinators, Project NOW, and members of the four districts' health curriculum team attended a two-day workshop at Sugarloaf. This was an informative two days, jammed-packed with information on how to develop a K-12 state-mandated comprehensive health program in each district. Funding for this development comes from both the Campaign for a Healthy Maine and the Comprehensive School Health Education grants. This process is quite a task and "kudos" need to be given to each health curriculum committee for taking the time and putting the energy into the ongoing development.

Recently, Project NOW met with representatives from Medical Care Development, based out of Augusta, along with Mt. Valley High School student representative Katrina Couch to learn more about the "Youth Advocacy Project" they are heading up. Each grant site (there are 31 in Maine) is to have a student representative recruit students ages 12-17 that are interested in becoming involved in youth advocacy. Twenty of those interested students will attend a weekend retreat in November at Camp Kieve. There will be an opportunity available at a later time for those students unable to attend this retreat. The more youth interested in getting involved, the better. For those youth interested in getting in touch with Katrina Couch about the Youth Advocacy Project, please contact the listed below.

The school health coordinators and the Grant Advisory Council will meet on a regular basis to discuss the updates of the grant, voice opinions/suggestions, and get questions answered. It's also a time to recruit any necessary help needed to meet the grant objectives.

Project NOW stands for Northern Oxford Wellness and is funded through the Campaign for a Healthy Maine. This organization is based out of Rumford as part of River Valley Healthy Communities Coalition. Project NOW's purpose is to educate others on the topics of tobacco, physical fitness, and good nutrition. The surrounding areas benefiting from these grant monies are those towns in SAD21, SAD43, SAD44, and Peru. If anyone has any questions or comments, please call RVHCC at 364-7408 M-F or e-mail at rvhcc@ghi.net.

THE UPTON-BETHEL "STAGE" as it looked in the early decades of the 20th century is seen here stopped in Upton. It provided an important link for "sports" traveling between Bethel and its railway connection and the lakes country to the north. This photograph is among thousands that can be found at the Bethel Historical Society which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire.

BERLIN CITY
An Employee Owned Company

Are you hearing negative talk about the economy locally and beyond?

At Berlin City, we're experiencing some of the best sales months in recent memory!

Right now, we are looking for a career oriented individual to join our sales team.

Here are some facts about our current Berlin City Sales team

- Average tenure on our team is 6+ years
- With over 1,000 customer contacts a month, more than 60% of our business comes from outside the Berlin/Gorham area.
- Average Salesperson earns $30,000 - $50,000 per year (Our top producers earn even more).
- All of our salespeople can sell from the 18 franchises Berlin City offers.

And the benefits are incredible!

- Company stock options for retirement that are 100% employer funded. (Call for more details on our exciting Employee Stock Option Program).
- Available Health/Dental Insurance
- Strong Management Team to support you.
- Flexible schedule.

This is your chance to make as much money as you want to earn! Don't miss out. And remember all of our sales managers started as salespeople.

Obituaries

FENTON E. DAMON

Fenton E. Damon, 47, of North Turner, died suddenly Tuesday morning, Sept. 25, 2001 at Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston.

Born in Norway on April 26, 1954, he was the son of the late Irene (Estes) Damon and Archie F. Damon, who survives him.

Mr. Damon attended Oxford Hills High School and graduated from St. Louis High School in Honolulu, Hawaii.

He was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, having served over 20 years as an aircraft structural mechanic. He served in both Vietnam and Operation Desert Storm.

On Oct. 27, 1973, Mr. Damon married the former Deanna Trask.

He was a member of the National Rifle Association and the National Fisherman's Association. He enjoyed hunting and fishing and together, he and his wife built their home.

Survivors include his father of Florida; his wife of 28 years; a daughter, Amber Damon of Lewiston; four sisters, Janette Pierce of South Woodstock, Sylvia Tutko and Roxanne Berry, both of Bryant Pond and Sherry Damon of Albany, N.Y.; several stepbrothers and step-sisters. He was predeceased by a daughter, Harmony in 1975.

Memorial services were held at the Andrews Funeral Home, South Woodstock on Friday, Sept. 28. Donations in Fenton's memory may be made to the American Heart Association, Maine Affiliate, Inc., 20 Winter Street, P.O. Box 317, Augusta, ME 04332-0317, or March of Dimes, 88 Dupuis Street, Lewiston, ME 04240.

GRACE H. SMITH

Grace H. Smith, age 84, died Monday, Oct. 1, 2001 at the Maine Veterans' Home in South Paris.

She was born at Bethel on March 4, 1917, the daughter of Daniel C. and Nanette A. Abbott Foster. She was educated in East Bethel and Woodstock Schools and graduated from Woodstock High School in the Class of 1936.

She married Warren G. Smith in 1946; he died in 1991.

She was a homemaker and also worked at Ekco Wood Products for twelve years.

She was a member of the Jackson-Silver American Legion Auxiliary and the 40/8 Club of Rumford. An avid birdwatcher and gardener, she loved to grow roses. And most important to her was the time spent with her grandchildren. Many happy hours were spent playing scrabble with her nieces.

Survivors include three sons, Warren (Charlie) and wife Debbie Smith of Tavernier, Fla., Ronald D. and wife Sally Smith of Greenwood and Harold E. and wife Rhonda Smith of Charlestown, N.H.; one daughter-in-law, Amy Smith of Woodstock; a brother, Albert Foster of East Bethel; one granddaughter, Koral Kimball; six grandsons, Eben, Nicholas, Daniel, Edward and Zackery Smith; one great-grandson, Michael Smith; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 3, at the Andrews Funeral Home in South Woodstock. Burial will be at the East Bethel Cemetery. In lieu of flowers those who wish may make contributions in Grace's memory to the Jackson-Silver American Legion Auxiliary, Greenwood, ME 04255.

ALBERT F. RAYMOND

Albert F. Raymond, age 81, died Thursday, Sept. 27, 2001 at the Ledgewood Living Center in West Paris.

He was born at Stoneham on Sept. 13, 1920, the son of John and Edith Waterhouse Raymond. He was educated in Maine and Massachusetts schools and was a logger, and woodsman.

He was a decorated WWII Army Veteran and a member of the Mundt-Allen Post 81. An avid motorcycle enthusiast, he owned and rode several Indians and Harley Davidsons. He also loved going to his camp on Aziscochos Lake.

He married the former Verna Mason, who predeceased him.

Survivors include two daughters, Deborah Wild of Hollis and Gladys Libby of Norway; four grandchildren; and ten great-grandchildren. A celebration of his life will be held in the spring. Those who wish may make donations in Albert's memory to the Bethel Rescue or the Bethel Police Dept., Bethel ME 04217.

ELTON R. COOLIDGE

Elton R. "Red" Coolidge, 75, of Andover, died Monday, Oct. 1, 2001 at the St. Marguerite d'Youville Pavilion in Lewiston following a short illness.

Born in Hanover on Oct. 24, 1925, he was the eldest son of Floyd "Jim" and Joan (Skillings) Coolidge. The family moved to Bethel when he was a young boy and he had attended Bethel schools. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II in the Pacific and in Africa. He was discharged as a Medical NCO (Sergeant) with the 77th Infantry Division. When he returned home, he married Marion Silver on Oct. 14, 1947.

He worked as a woodsman and truck driver for himself and many local firms. In 1963, he and his family moved to Andover in order to be closer to his employment as a truck driver at Andover Wood Products.

Since his retirement, he enjoyed working at Western Maine Supply and in his shop making lawn furniture, screens, windows, doors, floats, and numerous other wood-working jobs. He enjoyed bluegrass music and festivals, traveling and story telling. He will be sadly missed by many friends and his companion, Betty Perkins.

Survivors include four daughters, Sharon and her husband Robert Hutchins of Andover, Copper and her husband David Hutchins of Monmouth, Beverly and her husband Kenneth Merrill of Winthrop, and Chris and her husband Lee Frazier of Lisbon Falls; two sons, Peter and his wife Wanda and Floyd "Jim" and his wife Staci all of Andover; 12 grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; a brother, Stanley and his wife Avis of Oxford; and three nieces and their families. He was predeceased by Marion, his wife of 43 years, in 1990.

Graveside services will be held Friday, Oct. 5 at the Riverside Cemetery in Bethel. Officiating will be his son-in-law, Kenneth Merrill. Those who desire, please donate in his memory to St. Marguerite d'Youville Pavilion, Unit 1 East, 102 Campus Avenue, Lewiston, ME 04240.

STANLEY L. BROWN

Stanley L. Brown, 84, died Monday, Oct. 1, 2001 at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

He was born at Bethel on July 31, 1917 the son of Carl L. and Ruth Mason Brown. He graduated from Gould Academy in the Class of 1936. He also attended Becker College in Massachusetts.

He married the former Althea Sweeney on May 4, 1940. She died on May 16, 1998.

Stanley was a sawyer and had worked at the sawmill of L.E. Davis Lumber for many years.

He was a member of the United Methodist Church in Bethel.

He had built five homes and enjoyed working with his hands. Lately, he had built several stained-glass lamp shades.

Survivors include his daughter, Anne and her husband Pete Dunbar of Auburn; his son Corey and his wife Patricia of Rock Springs, Wyo.; two brothers, Irving and John both of Bethel; four grandchildren, Andrew Benson of Athens, and Sarah, Emily, and Christopher all of Rock Springs Wyo. He was predeceased by three brothers Robert, Edwin and Donald.

Funeral Services will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 4, at the Greenleaf Funeral Home in Bethel. Burial will be at Riverside Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, those who wish may make contributions in Stanley's memory to Stephens Memorial Hospital, Main Street, Norway, ME 04268.

JAMES A. MANN SR.

James A. Mann Sr., 83, formerly of Rumford, died Sunday, Sept. 23, 2001 of congestive heart failure at Cape Cod Hospital, Cape Cod, Mass.

Born in Rumford in 1918, the son of James Alexander Mann and Angeline Abbott Mann, he attended local schools and graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York.

Mr. Mann was the husband of Ethel Mann for 59 years. He was a naval lieutenant during World War II, serving in the South Pacific.

He worked as a research chemist at the former Crocker Burbank Paper Co. in Fitchburg, Mass., and as a professor at the University of Massachusetts at Lowell until his retirement.

A Lunenburg, Mass., resident for 49 years, Mr. Mann served on the town Planning Board for 20 years and was co-founder of the Lunenburg Arts and Crafts Center. He is to be remembered as a man of great character.

Survivors include his wife; three children, Barbara Mann Hawkins of Centerville, Mass., James A. Jr. of Bethel and Peter A. of South Yarmouth, Mass.; five grandchildren; and nieces and nephews.

Memorial donations may be sent in memory of James A. Mann, Sr., to the Salvation Army Disaster Relief Fund, PO Box C 635, New York, NY 10994 or to the Bethel Library, PO Box 130, Bethel, ME 04217.
